

Resources for You

Partner Violence

Partner violence is a pattern of abusive behavior occurring between two people in an intimate relationship.

Partner violence occurs in families of all races, religions, sexual orientation, economic, and social backgrounds.

Both men and women can be victims of partner violence.

Over one half of men who are violent toward their partners commit acts of violence (including sexual abuse) toward their children.

You are experiencing partner violence if your partner abuses you physically, sexually, or emotionally and/or attempts to control your behavior, your decisions, and choice of friends.

Workplace Issues

At UPMC Schools of Nursing, your safety is of great importance. In addition to your individual well-being, it's necessary to note that partner violence can intrude upon the workplace. Your campus director, Human Resources representative, and local Safety/Security director are here to serve as resources to assist you in finding the services you may need.

At School:

If you suspect that you might be stalked, call Security to receive an escort to your car or bus stop. Your Safety/Security director will work with you to develop a safety plan.

At Home:

When driving to school, vary your route, avoid predictable behaviors, and change parking spots. Report suspicious occurrences immediately to police. Learn to cover your tracks online by visiting <http://www.pcadv.org/Computer-Tips/Safety/>.

Protective Strategies

Report threats of abuse to your local police and to your campus director immediately. Contact a local partner violence program and LifeSolutions for confidential support.

A protection from abuse order (PFA) compels the abuser to stop the violent behavior and refrain from contacting or stalking you and excludes the abuser from the residence. It grants temporary custody of minor children, and orders payments of temporary support. Contact your local police department for information on obtaining a PFA in your area.

If you obtain a PFA, inform the Safety/Security director. If possible, provide a copy of a photo of the abuser.

Report harassing phone calls at work to the Safety/Security director immediately. Contact your phone company's security department if you are receiving harassing phone calls at home.
